

ONLINE TUTORING RESOURCES

Health TECH wants all students to succeed. The following links will help you learn and review concepts for class.

General Links:

Khan Academy--Khan Academy is an excellent all-around link, but has more resources for math and science.

GoogleDrive Tutorial--this 17 minute video will introduce you to the world of GoogleDrive.

Howtostudy.com--great study ideas for students of all ages.

Test Prep Links:

SAT practice test--once you create your account you can take a free practice SAT from CollegeBoard.

SAT online course--simple lectures and practice questions once you sign up.

Science Links:

Science Resources: www.bozemanscience.com; links for many science subjects

Physics: www.physicsclassroom.com; interactive tutorials, videos, and other help for physics

Chemistry: www.tutor.com/resources/science/chemistry; links to teaching videos and tools for chemistry

Math Links:

General Math Topics: Univ. of CA Santa Barbara Math Dept; links to a number of resources on math topics, some from Khan Academy some from other sources.

Algebra: Virtual Math Lab, West Texas A&M University; step-by step tutorials in algebra

English Links:

General Writing: OWL, Purdue Online Writing Lab--a great resource for writing of all kinds.

Bibliographies: www.easybib.com makes bibliographies a breeze.

Grammar: OWL, Purdue Online Writing Lab for grammar--exercises and resources to become a grammar master .

Social Science Links:

US History: www.ushistory.org; simple readings on many topics in US history

Government: www.ushistory.org/gov; has readings and explanations for government as well.

Geography: www.ciafactbook.com; the CIA isn't just for toppling governments anymore. The World Factbook is a great resource for understanding countries around the world, courtesy of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Career Links:

Career Exploration: www.cacareerzone.org is a great place to start researching careers.